IPNE ANNOUNCESDigital Publishing 3-Part Tutorial Series*"What you need to know today to plan for publishing tomorrow"

Digital media is the fastest growing market segment in book publishing, and projected trends are that this market will continue to grow exponentially. Every publisher should be thinking about their digital strategy and how best to implement it.

The tutorials will take place over the course of this fall, winter and spring. Each tutorial will build on the previous one, but each session also stands alone. Participation at any, or all tutorials is welcomed.

Space is limited! We have room for only 30 attendees at Tutorial 1. This event will sell out, so book early and reserve your space. Registration is open and limited to the first 30 sign-ups. For more information, go to www.ipne.org

IPNE's mission is to provide opportunities for education and networking for those engaged in independent book publishing and related activities in the six New England states.

IPNE offers educational programs, networking, marketing opportunities, advocacy, and information about publishing. The organization is supported primarily by membership dues and other income substantially related to its purpose.

Our organization covers 6 New England states and we support our members by exhibiting at trade shows and conferences, and by providing educational and networking opportunities.

Whether you're an experienced publisher with many titles, or a newer publisher with one book, or a vendor that supports the publishing field, you'll come to enjoy our active group and the camaraderie and business growth opportunities that come with it! We also welcome authors who self-publish to our group.

Our members are available to do presentations on independent publishing at libraries, bookstores, schools, conferences, and literary/book festivals.
